- Should the unit arrive to us with shipping damage, the refunded amount will be lowered to cover the cost of any damage. If this is for warranty service, the service will still be completed but shipping damage is excluded from the repair.
- If this is a return/refund, ensure the box is undamaged so the next customer who purchases the item is satisfied. If the material is damaged, and we believe it will cause a problem for the next customer, your refunded amount will be lowered to cover the cost of new materials.
